

CoA and Travel: What EU Citizens Need to Know

The Home Office advice is not to travel in or out of the UK if you have a pending application to the EU Settlement Scheme (EUSS). If you do travel, please be aware of the following:

If you are an EEA citizen and made an EUSS application on or before 30 June 2021, you can travel with either your valid passport, or national identity card, and Certificate of Application (CoA), but prepare to be asked for evidence of your continuous residence in the UK before and since 31 December 2020

If you are an EEA citizen and made a valid EUSS application after 30 June 2021 (considered a late application), in addition to either your valid passport or national identity card and CoA, be prepared to be asked for evidence of your continuous residence in the UK before and since 31 December 2020 to gain entry to the UK.

In both scenarios, without this evidence, entry to the UK may be refused.

If you are a non-EU or EEA EFTA national, who was living in the UK by 31 December 2020, in addition to your passport and CoA, prepare to be asked for evidence of your continuous residence in the UK before and since 31 December 2020, and evidence of the family relationship on which you rely in your EUSS application, such as:

- UK-issued Biometric Residence Card (BRC), in-date or expired
- EUSS or EEA family permit, in-date or expired
- other credible evidence of the family relationship

Without this evidence, entry to the UK may be refused.

If you have applied to the EUSS as a Joining Family Member (JFM), you will need your:

- valid passport, or (EU and EEA citizens only) identity card
- CoA
- EUSS family permit based on the same family relationship as the pending EUSS application

An expired family permit can also be used, but only in certain circumstances:

Can be used	Cannot be used
If you are awaiting a Home Office decision on your EUSS application.	If your EUSS application has been refused and you are awaiting the outcome of an administrative review or appeal.
